MESSAGE

“We have talked about planning for a long time and we have produced a draft Five-Year Plan. That Plan will presumably be finalised in the course of some weeks. Everyone recognises now the necessity for planning and tries to utilise our resources to the best advantage.

. But that

We can, to some extent, measure our resources, or most of them. But it is very difficult to measure the biggest of these resources that we have, that is, man-power, and that psychology which makes people work for great ends. Unless we utilise this man-power and unless we can produce that temper in our people which laughs at difficulties and get things done, sometimes in spite of facts, we cannot achieve anything really big.

Therefore we have to look to our people, go to them, talk and discuss with them and work with them. We must function as comrades in a common task, as partners in a joint undertaking. We may have to teach them something but we have much to learn from them also. So we should go to them not with pride of knowledge but in humility of spirit and with the intense desire to bring about, with our common labour that joint effort which can shake and break up a mountain of inertia.

The proposal to start an organisation, to be called the Bharat Sevak Samaj, has this in view. It is an ambitious task and we want men and women with high ambition for it — not the ambition for the little and personal things of life but the ambition to serve great causes, forgetting oneself, and achieve great ends.

This is not a political organisation, even though I, a politician, commend it. It is meant for every able-bodied man and woman, whatever his or her views might be on other topics”.

VOLUNTARY SERVICE FOR COMMUNITY'S WELFARE

BHARAT SEVAK SAMAJ TO BE FORMED

DRAFT CONSTITUTION ANNOUNCED BY PLANNING COMMISSION

A NON-POLITICAL VOLUNTEER BODY

MEMBERSHIP OPEN TO ALL EXCEPT BELIEVERS IN VIOLENCE

New Delhi, June 22, 1952.

Citizens all over the country will soon be provided with a forum for rendering service to the country through a broad-based, non-political, voluntary social service agency, the establishment of which has been proposed in the near future by the Planning Commission. Named the "Bharat Sevak Samaj", the membership of this body will be open to all adults irrespective of caste, creed, sex, religion and party affiliations. Only those who profess faith in violent or subversive activities or communal hatred cannot have any place in this organisation.

Details of the organisation are given in a pamphlet just published by the Planning Commission with a foreword from the Prime Minister, Shri Jawaharlal Nehru. The functions of the Samaj, the Prime Minister says, would be to approach the people "in humility of spirit and with the intense desire to bring about, with our common labour, that joint effort which can shake and break up a mountain of inertia."

THE GENESIS

The idea of Bharat Sevak Samaj has its genesis in the Draft Outline of the Five-year Plan which emphasises the need for willing, intelligent and effective public cooperation if the Plan is to succeed. The concept of planning, the Commission observes in the Draft Outline, has been associated largely with the totalitarian regime in which a group has gathered in its hands all the power to control and regiment the life of the community and to command and direct its material
